Greetings, My name is Sasha. I am writing this letter to suggest a name for a new street in our town. I hope you will approve my suggestion for a name. My suggestion is that the street should be named after the greatest writer of all time, Alexander Sergeevich Pushkin. I can tell you it's the greatest choice of a name because he has made the most greatest and most readable works, at a young age. His works are taught in almost every school and there is even a national holiday to commemorate the birthday of our outstanding person.

For now the street will look like to remain the naming of a street and its design. There is not any specific way to design the street, however, if you want the street to be the embodiment of Pushkin, then I have some interesting ideas. Starting with facilities, we can obviously have a library that's also named after the writer. The library will have the important works of Pushkin, but there also can be other works of other well known writers. Optionally, the street itself can be designed in the similar way that Pushkin's the street, where Pushkin lived, was designed.

That's about it. Once again, I hope you will approve this all. We all would love to see this happen.
